The Music

CAN YOU LISTEN?

“Can you listen? I know that you can listen. Clap your hands. Clap your hands. Clap your hands. Clap your hands.”

Can you listen? I know that you can listen. Tap your toes. Tap your toes. Tap your toes. Tap your toes.”

The Class

Encouraging children to listen and focus is very important in the early years – good listeners become good learners! “Can You Listen?”, written for the Sing A Song curriculum, promotes listening in a fun, musical way!

“Can you listen? I know that you can listen. Pat your knees. Pat your knees. Pat your knees. Can you listen? I know that you can listen. Listen please. Listen please. Listen please. Listen please.” The teacher sings each verse progressively softer and very quietly at the end. Students must listen closely as the dynamics change.

Developmental skills include fine motor skills, language development, listening skills, and social interaction.
